

MASTER OF ARTS IN SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is the scientific study of social relationships and individual and collective human action insofar as these are influenced by social forces. It consists of a body of related generalizations about human behavior and society guided by concepts and theories arrived at through scientific investigation.

The Master of Arts in Sociology offers training in three (3) areas of concentration leading to various lines or professional work. Specifically, the program offers courses leading to a Masteral degree in Industrial and Urban Sociology, Population Studies, and Social Problems.

To be considered proficient in the field of Sociology, the student must finish a total of 36 Masteral units which includes 6 units of thesis writing. The 36 units are distributed as follows: 15 units of courses related to Research Methodology, and 3 units of Design and Analysis and Statistics course. Fifteen units (15) are to be taken from other areas of concentration, and 6 units of thesis writing.

Objectives

1. To make MSU-

Second Year, Second Semester

| Course No. | Course Title    | Units | Hrs./Wk. |     |       | Prerequisite(s)   |
|------------|-----------------|-------|----------|-----|-------|---|
|            |                 |       | Lec      | Lab | Total |   |
| Socio 299  | Masteral Thesis | 6     |          |     |       | All core courses and other required courses and Written Comprehensive Examination |
| Total      |                 | 6     |          |     |       |   |

*Required Core Courses

**May be taken from Anthropology, Communications, Community Development, Economics, Political Science, Psychology, History, Social Work, and/or on other areas of concentration in Sociology

SUMMARY OF COURSES

|  |                 | UNITS    |
|--|-----------------|-----------------|
| I. CORE CURRICULUM  |                 | 15 units |
| Socio 270  | 3 units         |                 |
| Socio 271  | 3 units         |                 |
| Socio 280  | 3 units         |                 |
| Socio 281  | 3 units         |                 |
| Socio 288  | 3 units         |                 |
| II. AREAS OF CONCENTRATION  |                 | 15 units |
| A. Major  | 12 units |                 |
| 1. Industrial and Urban Sociology(Any four of the following courses)Socio 215, 216, 226, 237, 239, 244,246, 255, 260, 261, 272   |                 |                 |
| 2. Population Studies(Any four of the following courses)Socio 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245,246, 274  |                 |                 |
| 3. Social Problems(Any four of the following courses)Socio 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 226,236, 251, 273  |                 |                 |
| B. Cognate  | 3 units  |                 |
| May be taken from Anthropology, Communications,Community Development, Economics, Political Science,Psychology, History, Social Work, and/or on otherareas of concentration in Sociology. |                 |                 |

SOCIO 213            POLITICAL SOCIOLOGY

A course on the analysis of philosophical and empirical works on power and authority and the political institutions which give them meaning.

Credit                                : 3 units
Prerequisite(s)                     : none

SOCIO 214            SOCIOLOGY OF EDUCATION

The sociocultural foundations of education and its effects on individuals and societies will be explored here to be able to appreciate differences in learning, educational achievement and value system.

Credit                                : 3 units
Prerequisite(s)                     : none

SOCIO 215            ECONOMY AND SOCIETY

An analysis of economic life in pre-industrial and urbanizing societies, and an application of analytic models to account for activities relating to production and distribution of goods and services are the major subject areas in this course.

Credit                                : 3 units
Prerequisite(s)                     : none

CHANGE AND DEVIANCY

SOCIO 220            SOCIAL CHANGE

This course focuses on the theories of social change and empirical studies of determinants and consequences of change. Experiences of underdeveloped and developed societies like Japan, the U.S. and many countries in Europe will be carefully examined.

Credit                                : 3 units
Prerequisite(s)                     : none

SOCIO 221            DEVIANT BEHAVIOR

A study on the review and analysis of abnormal behaviors, including other forms of deviancy which are not necessarily pathological, and social controls used by society to enforce conformity to norms.

Credit                                : 3 units
Prerequisite(s)                     : none

SOCIO 222            CRIMINOLOGY AND PENOLOGY

A study on the correlates and typology of crime and its victims, and the mechanisms of legal sanctions to reduce the tide of criminality and anti-social acts.

Credit                                : 3 units
Prerequisite(s)                     : none

SOCIO 236 RACE AND ETHNIC RELATIONS

This course is addressed to investigating the effects and policy implications of social contracts when

Credit : 3 units
Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 237 URBAN SOCIOLOGY

This course deals with comparative studies of urban communities; nature and consequences of urbanization.

Credit : 3 units
Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 238 RURAL SOCIOLOGY

An analysis of village life and the world view as well as the microscopic view of the dominant social institutions in peasant societies and the changes that impinge on them.

Credit : 3 units
Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 239 INDUSTRIAL SOCIOLOGY

A course that studies on the psychosocial effects of industrialization vis-à-vis man-work, man-man, and man-

SOCIO 251

SMALL GROUP PROCESSES

METHODS

SOCIO 280 RESEARCH METHODS I

An introductory course on the scientific approach in conducting social research, zeroing in on the theoretical aspects of problem definition, hypothesis testing, development of suitable indicators, and the techniques of data collection and data reduction.

Credit : 3 units

Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 281* RESEARCH METHODS II

Research proposal writing and practicum

Credit : 3 units

Prerequisite(s) : none

SOCIO 282 SURVEY METHODOLOGIES AND DESIGN

A course that familiarizes the student to the types of data collection using nonCr t

